

Skyline Wins Award 'Best New Product'!

Skyline
Tube System Wins
Best New Product
Exhibitor Show
2003!

Skyline Exhibits, a worldwide manufacturer of trade show and event exhibits, captured one of the trade show and event marketing industry's top honors, the Buyers Choice Award. The award recognizes the most innovative new products launched at the industry's premier show - Exhibitor Show 2003 held in Las Vegas. More than 250 companies showcased products before some 6,000 attendees - mostly corporate trade show and event marketing executives. Skyline earned the recognition for a new modular steel tube system.

The Skyline Tube System is an innovative system used mainly for building island (20' x 20' and larger) exhibits. It consists of steel tubes in varying lengths and curves that allow you to build nearly any shape imaginable. It works seamlessly with other Skyline systems and encourages the hottest trend in trade show and event marketing - the use of fabric. Skyline Tube System also reconfigures to fit a client's changing needs and packs compactly to save transportation costs.
